

Chapter 4: Typical bedsit accommodation layouts

PLAN 5

The above plan show precautions required for bedsit accommodation with shared cooking facilities.

By providing a protected escape route from all habitable rooms and putting a detector/sounder in every room, anyone upstairs or indeed anywhere in the house will quickly be alerted if there is a fire and should be able to get down the stairs quickly to safety through the front door.

The escape route needs to be protected by half hour fire resisting partitions and fire doors.
